I Love Bulldogs Day

Every dog has his day. Old Rochester Bulldogs have a day to remember as students at the school, sponsored by the Senior Class, put on a marvelous halftime parade in honor of the football team. Floats made of paper flowers toured the field and were awarded prizes.

Other winners in the I Love Bulldog Day were announced as follows: Elaine Lewis, first, and Antoinette Gonsalves, second, poster contest; and Jeffrey Dunn, essay contest; senior class, attendance.

Judges were Miss Etta Hix Allen, Miss Katherine Aurich and John Cummings, principals of the elementary schools in the school district.

Joe "Scoops" Bettencourt was presented the most valuable player trophy at the conclusion of the game. This trophy was presented by the Old Rochester Teachers' Club.

RHAPSODY IN BLUE EXCELLENT

Our Regional Symphonic Band started the new season with a geographic tour of sections of the United States and Mexico in music. Highlight of the show was the music of the great city rendered by piano soloist Donald L. Nahigyan, Jr. as he played "Rhapsody in Blue" accompanied by the Symphonic Band, under John Pandolfi's direction. Donald played with sensitivity, style and skill as he coaxed the mood and pulse of New York from the keyboard of the grand piano. A standing ovation was the tribute by the appreciative audience.

The Band dedicated the hymn "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring", to the late Paul E. Mc Cabe who was active in behalf of the band since it was established until his death this year.

"Festival Overture, Opus 96" was played with driving intensity by the Symphonic artists. Their concentration and ability brought this selection to brilliant life.

In the musical tour, the band painted a sound picture of New Orleans' French Quarter, the sounds of Mexico in the "Viva Mexico Suite" and the passion of the bull-fight in "The Moment of Truth". Detroit was the inspiration for the contemporary sounds of a "Motown Portrait" with the pulse of modern beat and melody.

This performance may well rank among the Symphonic Band's finest for skill of rendition and creative intensity. The musicians bowed to thunderous applause with a final encore, the stirring "Tenth Regimental March", which left the audience in an upbeat, appreciative glow. It is always a pleasure to witness craftsmen engaged in artistic work which they love and do extremely well. The Symphonic Band extended them-

LOCAL WOMEN'S CLUBS HAIL CARE STAMP

The Post Office last week, October 28th, issued a special 8-cent postage stamp honoring the international agency CARE on the occasion of its 25th Anniversary during 1971.

Mrs. Colin McGrath, second vice-president of the Mattapoisett Woman's Club, participated with Mattapoisett Postmaster Mr. Charles Figueiredo in displaying the first day issue.

"The General Federation of Women's Clubs is a member agency of CARE," Mrs. McGrath said, "and we are proud to bring well deserved recognition to this fine agency during its 25th year of service to mankind."

She noted that "our club for many years has joined with hundreds of others throughout the United States in helping CARE to meet the critical problems of hunger, poverty and disease overseas, and the good work done by CARE is a tribute to the deep concern clubwomen everywhere have for the needy of this world.

"This national honor paid to CARE by the issuance of an 8-cent stamp is really an honor for all of us who have so closely supported CARE's work, and on behalf of the citizens of our community we commend CARE for a job well done and pledge continued support of its programs to assist mankind."

STATE FEDERATION SUPPORTS CARE

Among its good works, the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs this month intends to carry out a State-wide effort to publicize their active role in supporting CARE programs among the needy overseas.

On October 28th the United States Postal Service unveiled a new 8-cent postage stamp honoring the international agency CARE on the occasion of its 25th anniversary. Massachusetts club women visited every post office in the State and assisted the local postmasters in displaying a sheet of these commemorative stamps as they went on sale.

Sippican Woman's Club

In Marion Mrs. George E. Glaeser, president of the Sippican Woman's Club, participated in this project. Clubwomen have used this opportunity to herald the active role they have played in the CARE program for many years, by generously supporting the work of this humanitarian agency, so that their concern for the needy in all parts of the world could be translated in effective and meaningful action.

I have refrained from expressing my views on this matter because of a business connection with one of the developers of Indian Cove Trust; however due to the many comments regarding the shellfish of the area, I feel that I should, as a former Shellfish Officer now in the shellfish business, make known my personal observations and experiences in this area.

First, to make the record clear, there are not and have not been for several years to my knowledge, shellfish in any appreciable quantity in the area to be dredged.

The effect on the existing shellfishing areas by the proposed dredging, in my opinion, can only be for the better. Shellfish are filter feeders, i.e., plankton and not decayed matter, so that the better the flow of water over the shellfish, the better and faster they will grow. The proposed channel will allow a better exchange of water in these areas.

CAR CARE CORNER

SAFETY ADVICE

Every time you drive in the rain, your vehicle is subject to a phenomenon called "hydroplaning," especially if most of the tread is worn off your tires.

What happens is that the tires, at certain speeds, usually between 50 and 60 mph, will ride on a film of water rather than on the road surface. When this occurs, it can be dangerous because the driver has no control for steering or braking.

The depth of the water has a lot to do with hydroplaning. But a car is more likely to "water ski" at speeds of between 30 and 40 mph if the water depths exceeds the tire tread depth, and particularly if the road surface is hard and smooth such as asphalt or ice. It is less likely to happen on heavily textured surfaces and if tires have deep treads. This allows water to squirt through rather than build up a wedge in front of each tire.

How to avoid "water skiing" with your automobile? The Car Care Council suggests that motorists observe the following:

- Make sure tires are in good condition with plenty of tread.
- Reduce speed on wet highways.
- Watch for heavy crosswinds while driving on wet highways.
- Leave extra distance between yourself and the vehicle ahead when the highway is wet.
- Release brakes if car skids because of a brake lock.

In addition, I have observed the results of dredging in other areas. Quahogs have set extremely heavy on the banks of newly dredged areas to the extent that the harvest was of considerable commercial value. Also, these areas have continued to produce.

Aucoot Creek at one time was a good producer of oysters. I believe that with a better exchange of water, the creek will again produce good oysters.

I have a deep-seated interested in the overall ecology of Aucoot Cove and its tidal marshes. As a charter member of the Marion Conservation Commission and its chairman for two terms, I was involved in making some of the initial contacts that led to the Commission controlling some of the marsh acreage.

I feel that the residents of Marion and Mattapoisett are very fortunate in that the developers of Indian Cove are very conscious of the nature, beauty and value of the Aucoot Cove marshes and are doing everything in their power to preserve them.

The dredging of the proposed channel will, in my opinion, only better the shellfishing in Aucoot Cove and adjacent areas.

"Damn Yankees" Coming

"Damn Yankees", the season's first production by the Greater New Bedford theatre group, The Spouters, will be performed at the Fairhaven Town Hall on Friday and Saturday, November 5th and 6th, and 12th and 13th. The play is a lively musical comedy about an overzealous Washington Senators' fan who enters into a pact with the Devil to insure that his team will win the American League pennant over its arch rivals, the perennial champion New York Yankees. The era is 1950-1955, when the Bronx Bombers, managed by Casey Stengel and led by Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra, dominated major league baseball.

Shelley Torman, a freshman at Bristol Community College, portrays Shoeless Joe Hardy, the central character in the play. Hardy is the bumpkin who, under Satan's malevolently masterful guidance, leads the men from D.C. out of the cellar and into the World Series. "Damn Yankees" may not have come in time to save the Senators for Washington (or to influence the fate of this year's Yankee team), but it promises to be a bright and thoroughly enjoyable bit of entertainment.

Pen Sale for Scouts

MATT. BOY SCOUT PEN SALE

The annual one day a year local fund-raising ball point pen sale (inscribed town seal and name) will be held this Sunday, November 7th. If it should rain the sale will be November 14th.

All parent drivers and scouts will meet at the Center School, Mattapoisett, at 1 o'clock sharp. The time necessary for this sale is two hours. The selling price in the past was three pens for one dollar and this year will be no different, the price will be the same.

Because this activity is held only once a year, it is essential that Troop #15 as well as townspeople collaborate in this fund-raising program.

This scout troop has grown considerably in the past year and the assets derived from fund-raising go directly into boy scout needs. Incidentally, Boy Scouts, no uniforms are to be worn for this sale.

Finally, all scouts and leaders who participate can, if they wish, look forward to a weekend at Fort Devens as guests of the

BULLDOGS EDGE 1 POINT

The Old Rochester Bulldogs put a ground game together to power a strong offense in the first half of Saturday's ball game with the Warriors of Seekonk. The power evaporated during the final half of the game but the Warriors stalled against the stubborn defense and finally ran out of time just as they were about to try a field goal.

Old Rochester obliged the visitors with a quick scoring opportunity as the Warriors went 44 yards with a draw play and then sneaked in from the 1 to score. Jeff Rowntree made the TD and Ray Ventura booted the extra point. The Bulldogs then mounted their strong attack. They drove for 74 yards. Paul Soares had the longest run of the drive for 26 yards. Richard Reilly scored on an 18-yard run. The two-point conversion failed.

Lincoln Brown recovered a fumble on a bad pass from the center on the Seekonk 43 to set up the next O.R. drive. Soares climaxed the drive with an end run. Richie Silvia then converted with a run that was the margin of victory.

A Rochester fumble in the third quarter on the O.R. 34 set up the next Warrior score. Ventura went 24 yards to the 3 after a 7-yard run by Alan Palumbo. Ventura then

ANNOUNCING A NEW SERVICE

CHIPARVESTOR ... an answer to an ever increasing problem

Predominately the thinking with industry, scientist, city or town government, ecologist and others is with the accelerating pollution and decline of our environmental conditions. Generally, we tend to relate the pollution problems with debris, trash and chemicals that are added to our water resources and litter to our urban areas with the overflow and residue from our industries and our individual daily activities.

It may seem a little remote that we would associate trees in any form with pollution, but the fact is that in the clearing for streets, highways and house lots along with the removal of dead and dying trees has involved either moving large volumes of wood to land fill areas or burning, both of which are presenting serious problems to the cities, towns, highway departments, pipeline and utility companies.

Frank J. Linhares Co. Inc. finds itself involved with the solution to these problems by means of purchasing the equipment which gives an excellent performance of digesting entire trees, trunk, limbs, leaves and all and reducing it to small wood chips in a matter of seconds ... a component answer to the overall concern for environmental improvement.

For prices on clearing house lots, proposed roadways, etc., please contact Frank J. Linhares Co. Inc. We are at your service with a first in our community.

scored. A fake kick was tried for the conversion and the run was stopped.

Two apparent scoring plays by the Warriors were nullified, one by a clipping penalty and one when the runner stepped out of bounds, in the final quarter. In the final moments the Warriors were on the Bulldog 12 setting up a field goal attempt. The clock ran out before the snap.

PAPER COLLECTION DATES SWITCHED

During the last weekend of each month, for the past few months, residents of Mattapoisett have had the opportunity to deposit their wastepaper at a centrally located collection van. Because of the upcoming holiday season and other special events such as Halloween, this monthly collection schedule has been revised accordingly.

For the next three months, the collection van will be available in November on the weekend of the 6th, in December on the weekend of the 4th, and in January, on the weekend of the 8th.

As usual, the van will be stationed on the Barstow Street parking lot of the Congregational Church, and will be available for deposits on the designated weekends from 11:00 A.M. Saturday until 4:00 P.M. Sunday.

All trash paper is acceptable, but it is requested that the paper be properly packaged for easy handling. Newspapers and magazines should be tied into portable bundles. Accumulations of odd paper stuff should be contained in cardboard cartons or large grocery sacks.

This ecological project is sponsored by the Mattapoisett Republican Town Committee.
